Answer to Reply Brief

Applicant's submission of a paper submitting a corrected "Appeal Brief's Summary of Claimed Subject Matter", submitted on 4-2-2009, has been entered and approved by the Examiner.

The Reply Brief filed on 4-2-2009 has been noted and is not persuasive of patentability. The prior art as applied clearly teaches an assembly that can be assembled comprising plasma torch components, and the assembled into the plasma torch to ease assembly and facilitate changing of the torch components. Claim 1 for instance, as broadly presented, merely claims a tip, electrode and shield cup, "integrally connected", during assembly. This feature is taught by the prior art applied as old in the art. The claims are silent as to the meaning of integrally connected. To for an integral assembly of multiple torch components and subsequently assemble this integral assembly into a plasma torch, is old as advanced in the Examiner's Answer. The claims at appeal do not preclude this interpretation of the prior art applied.
